

10 LAWS TO INCREASE CUSTOMER LONG-TERM VALUE

- 1. Commit to quality service. Devote to creating a positive customer experience that creates both relationships and sales.
- 2. Be proactive- Aggressively seek out customer complaints. If you do not ask, you will never know.
- 3. Know your customers. Tailor your services and products to satisfy the customer's needs and buying habits.
- 4. Listen to your customers. Let the customer know that you are aware of their comments by saying Thank You.
- 5. Build Staff Loyalty. If the business has a loyal staff, the loyal staff will build the business.
- 6. Train your Employees & Reward their Efforts. Train your employees to effectively build relationships with the customers and reward their efforts to build loyalty.
- 7. Deal with Complaints. Solve the customer's problem and position your business to reap the benefits of good customer service.
- 8. Be helpful – Go above and beyond by designing solutions to your clients' problems.
- 9. Win back Customers. Increasing long-term value of each customer can be 60% of the businesses annual revenue growth. Implement customer loyalty programs.
- 10. Work to strengthen the Customer Experiences. Map out the customer experience and evaluate each contact point for weakness and opportunities.